

Use of Interpreter Services Procedure

1. Guiding Principles

Ineffective communication is the most frequent contributor to adverse clinical events and it is becoming increasingly apparent that partnering with consumers includes reducing communication barriers. The recognition of this and many other factors has led to the inclusion of an entire Standard in the new EQulPNational standards.

The Australian Commission on Safety and Quality in Health Care National Safety and Quality Health Services Standards - Standard 2: Partnering with Consumers is an overarching standard that requires the organisation to implement systems to support partnering with patients, carers and other consumers.

Consumers have a right to use Interpreter Services when communication is not optimal due to cultural and linguistic differences and for those who are deaf or hearing impaired. The hospital is responsible for the cost of this service.

English is not the first language for many Aboriginal¹ and overseas patients. For some, English can be the second, third or fourth language. The WA Country Health Service (WACHS) – Kimberley has an obligation to book an interpreter if there is any indication that there is difficulty in understanding and communicating in English, or if the patient requests an interpreter.

This document provides information about the use of Interpreter services within the WACHS-Kimberley.

When it is identified that consumers require the assistance of professional interpreting services, staff are to refer to the Department of Health Operational Directive OD 0346/11 WA Health Language Services Policy \(2011\) for guidance.

2. Procedure

- 2.1 Follow the ABC (Assess, Book, Confirm) method provided by the Department of Health to determine if an interpreter may be required – see Appendix 1.
- 2.2 Identify the need for language services on admission. Patients/carers are to be asked if they have a requirement for Interpreter Services (see ASSESS in Appendix 1).
- 2.3 Document this in the Medical Record. (For hospitals, stickers are available from your manager.)
- 2.4 Obtain approval from senior staff on duty to engage Interpreting services. (The cost of the interpreting service is part of the clinical service delivery and is covered by the health service).

¹ Within Western Australia, the term Aboriginal is used in preference to Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander, in recognition that Aboriginal people are the original inhabitants of Western Australia. No disrespect is intended to our Torres Strait Islander colleagues and community.

2.5 Choose the interpreting service to be utilised based on language required:

There are three choices available to Kimberley staff and consumers:

Aboriginal interpreting services - Kimberley Interpreting Service (KIS)

To use KIS, complete the KIS form or make an online request:

KIS	Kimberley Interpreting Services
TIS	Translating and Interpreting Service

4. Roles and Responsibilities

The role of the staff member is to assess if the consumer/carer is able to fully understand and communicate in a health care situation.

The role of an interpreter is to provide clear channel of communication between the service provider and an individual. The interpreter is not to add or subtract to the communication, but only interpret what is said.

The role of the senior staff member is to approve use of interpreting services requested by staff or patients/carers and provide guidance about the process if required.

5. Compliance

Failure to comply with this procedure may constitute a breach of the WA Health Code of Conduct (Code). The Code is part of the Employment Policy Framework issued pursuant to section 26 of the Health Services Act 2016 (HSA) and is binding on all WACHS staff which for this purpose includes trainees, students, volunteers, researchers, contractors for service (including all visiting health professionals and agency staff) and persons delivering training or education within WACHS.

WACHS staff are reminded that compliance with all policies is mandatory. .

6. Evaluation

Review of incidents relating to communication as a causative factor.
